

Achieve By Living, Working and Playing Through Your Strengths

Alice Meredith

AUTHOR/BUSINESS LEADER

Twitter: @aameredith LinkedIn: alicemeredith

By Allowing our Strengths to Lead us Through Life
we Find More Opportunities for Success and Achievement!

Achieve

Achieve through greater self-confidence

Achieve by improving relationships as we find unity in differences

Achieve by aligning your strengths with your life responsibilities

Relationships Are Strengthened When We Recognize And Appreciate Other's Strengths

Allow others to look at situations through their own unique lens.

Find unity in differences.

Learn to communicate in ways each will understand.

“Nothing is wrong with a square peg and nothing is wrong with a round hole. The two don’t fit together.”

Relationships in our personal lives are also very important and truly impact how we show up at our work

“Understanding our own and other’s strengths will help us in both our professional and personal relationships.”

Looking at each other through our strengths builds win-win relationships.

Aligning Role Responsibilities with Individual Strengths Brings Greater Opportunities for Success!

Summary

Strength Based Psychology

Gallup's Study Of Human Strengths

Identify Your Dominant Strengths

Discover A Deeper Understanding Of Your Strengths

Maximize Your Strengths, Navigate Around Your Weaknesses

Achieve By Living, Working and Playing Through Your Strengths

Gallups studies and strength focused approach teach us that our greatest growth potential comes from developing the talents and strengths we are naturally good at.

